

Bioweapons, DNA Resonance, and the Spiritual Battle for Humanity's Survival

Dr. Shankara Chetty asserts that COVID-19 and its vaccines constitute a deliberate bioweapon system engineered to bypass natural immune defenses (e.g., apoptosis, interferon responses) and prolong spike protein exposure, enabling persistent harm. Omicron, described as a contagious, neurotropic bioweapon, allegedly mutates to evade immunity, infecting both vaccinated and unvaccinated populations. Chetty warns of an extinction-level event driven by unchecked biotechnology and urges targeted research to mitigate harm.

A core theme revolves around DNA's role as an "antenna" for electromagnetic vibrations influenced by human emotions. High-frequency emotions like joy purportedly enhance DNA expression and collective resilience, while low-frequency energies (e.g., terror) disrupt biological and spiritual harmony. Chetty links global corruption and child trafficking to systemic efforts to generate destructive low-frequency vibrations, eroding humanity's innate divinity. Children, he argues, possess uniquely high vibrational frequencies, making them targets of exploitation to fuel dark agendas.

Clinically, Chetty observes unusual pathologies in unvaccinated patients, including elevated D-dimer levels, immune dysregulation, and vascular clotting anomalies. He attributes clotting ("calamari clots") to catalytic metals like tin, theorizing they trigger polymer growth resembling amyloid proteins, occluding blood vessels. Additionally, he posits that COVID-19's bacteriophage activity reprograms gut bacteria to produce snake venom-like toxins, evading digestion and causing systemic harm—a mechanism he deems "intentional, transmissible envenomation."

The document frames global crises—from pandemics to conflict—as outcomes of centuries-old schemes to dominate humanity through fear and corruption. Chetty ties mRNA vaccines to depopulation, alleging they alter physiology to reduce birth rates and increase mortality. He calls for accountability, urging prosecution of those behind these systems, and advocates emulating children's "fearless, joyful vibrations" to counteract spiritual and biological warfare.

Themes:

- Engineered Bioweapons: COVID-19 and vaccines as tools of systemic control.
- DNA and Emotional Resonance: Consciousness as a biological and spiritual regulator.
- Exploitation of Innocence: Child trafficking as a source of destructive energy.
- Medical Alarms: Spike protein toxicity, clotting mechanisms, and gut-derived toxins.
- Spiritual Mobilization: Reclaiming childlike joy to counter existential threats.

This synthesis underscores a plea for unified action—merging scientific inquiry, ethical accountability, and spiritual renewal—to confront a multidimensional crisis endangering humanity's future.
